New Brownie

Mrs. Ann Walsh, Brownie leader, pins the Girl Scout pin on Dana Smith, 7, making her an official member of Brownie Troop 60 during investiture services Wednesday. Dana is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith of Hope. Fourteen girls participated in the ceremonies. Other troop leaders assisting Mrs. Walsh are Mrs. Vonda Moore and Mrs. Marjorie Smith.

N. Viet troops gaining ground

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops and tanks overran another border camp in the Central Highlands today as both South and North Vietnamese fought to expand their territorial control before a cease-fire.

The South Vietnamese reported nearly 180 enemy attacks during the 24 hours ending at dawn and said it was the largest number recorded in any 24-hour period of the war. But many of them were small-scale rocket and mortar barrages.

The Duc Co border camp was the third frontier base overrun in the highlands in less than a month. Scores of rangers were reported to have escaped. But the fate of 60 men who had been wounded in the fighting was not known.

Duc Co fell just before dawn. U.S. and South Vietnamese helicopter gunships and bombers attacked the North Vietnamese force around the clock, and field reports said at least three of the enemy's T54 medium tanks were knocked out.

Helicopters were unable to lift out the wounded because of heavy antiaircraft fire from around the camp.

Duc Co, 12 miles from the Cambodian border and 27 miles southwest of Pleiku, was the fourth frontier camp in the highlands to come under heavy attack. Ben Het and Dak Seang were overrun last month.

Sixty miles north of Duc Co, North Vietnamese troops with four tanks attacked the Tan Canh Base which the South Vietnamese recaptured last Monday.

South Vietnamese gunships reportedly broke up the attack and the pilots said they knocked out two of the tanks and drove off the other two.

Meanwhile, South Vietnamese forces on the northern front were reported to have recaptured Fire Base Barbara, between Hue and Quang Tri. Barbara was abandoned early in the North Vietnamese offensive that began March 30.

The South Vietnamese command also claimed that government forces had driven enemy troops from a number of hamlets ranging from 12 miles northwest of Saigon to 20 miles east of the capital.

The U.S. Command reported that search teams had recovered the bodies of 12 of the 22 Americans killed Tuesday when a big U.S. helicopter crashed into a flooded rice field in the Mekong Delta 36 miles southwest of Saigon.

Big decision for Trudeau

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau may announce after a cabinet meeting today whether he'll try to stay in office in the wake of Monday's dead-heat election or turn over the government to Conservative leader Robert Stanfield.

Trudeau told newsmen after a 3½-hour meeting with some of his ministers and political advisers Wednesday he likely would make a statement today.

The election cut Liberal strength in the House of Commons to 108 seats and boosted the Conservatives to 109, leaving them 25 and 24 votes short of a majority. The New Democrats won the balance of Power with 30 seats.

Peace: One week after

WASHINGTON (AP) — One week after Henry A. Kissinger's word that "peace is at hand" for Vietnam, still-unresolved difficulties are casting an aura of uncertainty over just when a final agreement might be reached.

Last Thursday the presidential adviser said peace is within reach in "weeks or less" and a final negotiating session with North Vietnam should take "no more than three or four days."

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew maintained the administration's confident attitude Wednesday, while not giving a specific timetable, in talking with newsmen at San Diego, Calif.

"I think there will be a signing, although there are differences to be hammered out," Agnew said. "The negotiations are encouraging."

However, North Vietnam's Oct. 31 deadline for signing has passed and Hanoi has yet to say publicly when envoy Le Duc Tho might meet with Kissinger again. And U.S. officials hint Kissinger may have to travel to Saigon once more as well as to Paris before everything is wrapped up.

It thus is becoming increasingly unlikely that a peace will be signed before next Tuesday's U.S. elections. And after that, whatever pre-election pressure existed for a signing will have passed.

China's Premier Chou En-lai voiced hope Wednesday for a settlement in a few days, but said the news "is not so good." He said he has been in contact with Washington and Hanoi.

Chou said South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu had objected to seven of the nine points in the peace plan worked on by Kissinger and Le Duc Tho.

Agnew's version was different. "I don't see Thieu as a stumbling block," he said. "He hasn't been yet."

Sewer project is eyed

In a special meeting Wednesday, the Hope Board of Directors authorized the city engineers, Hawkins and Associates of Texarkana, to submit applications to the Arkansas Pollution Control Commission for a grant to aid in the construction of a proposed $2 million sewer improvement project.

If the grant is approved, the federal government would provide about $1.5 million, while the city would have to furnish 25 per cent of the total cost — or about $500,000.

Gerald Keith, city manager, told the Star yesterday that the city would sell revenue bonds to make up the city's share. He said that in order to pay off the bonds, city sewer rates would have to be increased from $1.25 to about $2.50.

The proposed projects would include the construction of two new sewer plants and addition of transfer lines from the old plants to the new plants. In addition major lines would have to be constructed,

Keith said, in areas in which the sewer system is now overloaded.

He said the proposed system is designed to serve a city with a population of about 23,000.

Keith was guardedly optimistic about the prospects of securing the grant, but he did estimate that, if approved, the construction could start early next year.

Keith also noted that the local sewer rate is "really low" compared to other towns with a similar population.

Also, he said, the Environmental Protection Agency inspected the Hope sewer system in August, and "we received a bad, bad report."

Keith said "some of our lines are overloaded to the point where we can't allow more construction. It's getting to a very bad stage in some areas."

He said that the ultimate goal of the city is to have every city department "make it on its own."

Mills vows investigation into political sabotage

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Saying he planned an investigation of presidential campaign tactics, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said Wednesday there was a "concerted effort" to alter the image of the candidates.

Mills, who campaigned briefly for the Democratic presidential nomination, said, "There was a sabotage of everyone who was running and that's what I want to look into."

The chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee said that from Feb. 1 through the Democratic National Convention, when his presidential candidacy was developing, a person "on the public payroll" stood outside his Washington office taking notes on everyone who entered.

Tactics during the campaign added up to "the dirtiest kind of politics" in his experience, Mills said at a news conference.

He said he wanted to find out if President Nixon had any part in a campaign to "smear" the Democratic candidates and "who in the White House directed this operation."

Mills said the President may not know about such tactics "but I'm satisfied that there are people in the White House who are aware of it."

"I'm mad, let me make it clear that I am mad," he said. The congressman told newsmen he knew more about the situation than he was revealing, but he would not elaborate.

Joining Mills at the news conference was Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who said there had been "a deliberate effort" to destroy the Democratic party. "It smacks of the same kind of tactics used by the fascists," the senator said.

Mills and Fulbright called the news conference originally to announce that Sen. George S. McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee, would arrive at Little Rock at 6 p.m. Saturday for an hour-long rally in a municipal airport hangar.

Mills then revealed he would ask for an investigation "of all factors leading up to the election" to determine if additional election laws are needed. He said if an investigation were not conducted by the Senate investigations subcommittee, he would see that a House committee makes an inquiry.

Fulbright said it all added up to a "concerted campaign to sow dissension in the party." He said this was "the type of thing they did in Germany — destroy your opposition."

Mills said Democrats may have engaged in dirty campaign tactics, but there had been no indication this had occurred.

Mills and Fulbright decried what they said appeared to be a lack of public concern over such events as the break-in at the Democratic National Committee headquarters in Washington.

If such an occurrence had taken place 20 years ago, "the people would have demanded impeachment," Mills said. Asked about the possibility of impeachment, Mills said he was not suggesting it, but that the idea had not "escaped my attention."

Telling of plans by McGovern to visit Little Rock, Fulbright said one reason for the nominee's stopover — his second this year — was Arkansas' tradition of giving her electoral votes to the Democratic candidate.

Asked about McGovern's chance of carrying Arkansas, Mills said: "I'm convinced that the people in Arkansas who are in the mainstream of thinking our state, who are the working people, by and large are going to vote for Sen. McGovern."

Wholesale prices decline .2 percent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices of a broad range of industrial raw materials, food, and manufactured goods declined an average of two-tenths of one per cent last month, the first drop in 13 months, the government said today.

The wholesale price report, the last before Tuesday's presidential election, said farm products declined 2.4 per cent, largest drop since an equal decline in September 1971.

Industrial raw materials decreased an average of one-tenth of one per cent and prices of finished consumer goods ready for retail sale declined five-tenths of one per cent, the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics reported.

On a seasonally adjusted basis, the bureau said, over-all wholesale prices rose one-tenth of one per cent, smallest increase on that basis in eight months.

The decline in farm products on a seasonal basis was 1.5 per cent and the seasonal decline in finished consumer goods was figured at two-tenths of one per cent.

The over-all actual decline brought the wholesale price index down to 120.0 of its 1967 base of 100. This meant it cost wholesalers on the average $120 last month for every $100 worth of goods five years ago.

The report said the index was 4.9 per cent above a year earlier.

The decline, the report said, was largely due to a slow-down in the rise of wholesale food prices that peaked in July. In the past three months prices of farm products, processed foods and animal feeds slowed to an annual rate of 3.8 per cent compared with 13.1 per cent the previous three months.

The report said the over-all rise of 4.9 per cent in wholesale prices in the past year compared with a 5.2 per cent annual rate in the nine months before President Nixon first imposed a wage-price freeze and then followed it with less stringent economic controls.

In the 14 months since the beginning of the presidential controls, the bureau said, wholesale prices have risen at an annual rate of 4 per cent.

Viet Cong renew old demand

PARIS (AP) — The United States told the Vietnamese Communists today that the few remaining problems to be settled before a cease-fire accord "should not be dismissed as pretext for delay."

"Misunderstandings on serious points, if they exist, must be frankly dealt with," U.S. delegate William J. Porter said at the Paris peace talks.

"Excessive haste in settling the final element would jeopardize the work that has been done ...

"Our task therefore is to carry forward to an equitable conclusion — with full respect to the views of all parties concerned — the work that has already been done, to refine and clarify where necessary, and to deal resolutely, candidly and realistically with any difficulties that may still remain."

The Vietnamese Communist delegate earlier denounced the United States for failing to sign the agreement and declared that delaying tactics compromised the chances of getting American prisoners of war home by Christmas.

The Viet Cong renewed an old Communist demand for the liquidation of all U.S. military bases in South Vietnam.

There was no mention of U.S. bases in the summary of the proposed cease-fire agreement published by Hanoi two weeks ago, and it was assumed the Communists had dropped the demand in return for American abandonment of the demand for withdrawal of Hanoi's troops from South Vietnam.

Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, the Viet Cong foreign minister, brought up the old demand at the 16th session of the Paris peace talks. It seemed likely her return to this issue was intended as a warning that a renewed demand for withdrawal of North Vietnamese forces could put into question the Communist concession permitting maintenance of the U.S. bases by South Vietnamese troops.

Since the provisions of the proposed agreement were made public, President Nguyen Van Thieu and members of his South Vietnamese government have repeatedly said all North Vietnamese forces must withdraw from South Vietnam before they will agree to a cease-fire.

Sources in Washington said the question of a North Vietnamese withdrawal had been raised in the secret talks between U.S. presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho of the North Vietnamese Politburo, and Tho indicated his government saw the need for some pullback.

The head of the North Vietnamese delegation, Xuan Thuy, was absent from the meeting, touching off speculation that he was meeting secretly with Kissinger.

State candidates take last-minute swipes

Bethune

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ed Bethune of Searcy, Republican candidate for state attorney general, criticized Wednesday the record of Pros. Atty. Jim Guy Tucker of Little Rock.

Tucker is the Democratic nominee for the state office.

Bethune said Tucker apparently did not believe that stiff punishment could deter drug traffic. He said Tucker seemed to think that when he filed charges in a drug case "you've done something, but it is results that count."

The GOP candidate said about 422 drug cases had been disposed of in the city of Little Rock since Jan. 1, 1971, when Tucker became prosecuting attorney.

"In only 150 of those cases — much less than half — was the defendant ever convicted or placed under supervision of the courts," Bethune said. "In most of the rest, charges were just dropped."

Riley

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Lt. Gov. Bob Riley said Wednesday the current Arkansas campaign is "the squirreliest election year I've ever seen."

Riley, the Democratic nominee, is seeking a second term.

Speaking at a fund-raising meeting, Riley said most candidates appear to be "playing it cool" and "nobody much seems to know what's going on."

He said that computerization of campaign techniques had enabled politicians to view society in segments and that political pitches this year seem to be fragmented, rather than adressed to the public as a whole.

Climor

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Jerry Climor of North Little Rock, Republican candidate for secretary of state, said Wednesday that once the people know "the true story" of incumbent Kelly Bryant's "record of mismanagement and scandal in office, they will reject him."

Climor said Bryant received only 27 per cent of the vote in Pulaski County in this year's Democratic party primary and that this was because voters know about Bryant because of coverage by Little Rock news media.

Bryant gets the most votes in areas where it is the least known, Climor said.

He said he has spent most of his campaign going around the state "concentrating on getting information about Kelly Bryant to the four corners of Arkansas."

Aid to parents of students in parochial schools asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government, with the noticeable absence of its solicitor general, has asked the Supreme Court to approve payments from State revenues to parents of parochial-school students.

In a memorandum to the court on Wednesday, the government said Pennsylvania's direct-payment system is constitutional since it does not "entangle" church and state.

The memorandum was signed by Daniel M. Friedman, the deputy solicitor general. His boss, Erwin N. Griswold, who usually speaks for the government to the high court, declined for what he termed "personal reasons."

Three years ago, Griswold, a former dean of the Harvard Law School, also dropped out of cases that led to Supreme Court decisions against payments by Pennsylvania and Rhode Island for salaries of parochial teachers.

The court is expected to decide before the end of the year whether it will review the decision of a three-judge panel in Philadelphia striking down Pennsylvania's payments.

Last month, the high court disapproved an Ohio law providing reimbursement of expenses for parents of children in parochial and other private schools.

Griswold would not amplify his reasons for staying out of the current Pennsylvania case, noting only that he had stepped out of the earlier case. Several years ago he also did not sign a government brief in a conscientious-objector case.

The Nixon administration has supported legislation to give tax credits to parents of parochial-school students. During the current presidential campaign, Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern has also endorsed tax credits.

The 1971 Pennsylvania law provides direct cash payments of $75 for each elementary-school child and $150 for each high-school child.

The three-judge court in Philadelphia said the law is unconstitutional because it serves to aid sectarian schools and because it aids parents in providing a religious education for their children.

Kindergarten children celebrate Halloween

On Tuesday, October 31, the children of Methodist Kindergarten celebrated Halloween with a party at the kindergarten.

Early in the preceding week, the children began making their plans. They learned about the origin of Halloween, learned songs, poems, and heard stories told about the holiday. On Friday, Oct. 27, the group went to the supermarket to purchase supplies. They worked in committees as follows:

police: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shiver are home from Kingsport, Tenn., and a visit with the Ronnie Nations family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harrell have been to see Mrs. Ella Thornton in Helena, Okla. En route home they took the scenic route through the Ozarks.

Mrs. Nelson Frazier has returned home to Washington, D.C., after visiting Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Tate.

Mrs. J.S. Gibson has returned home from Denver, Colo., where she visited the Johnny Gibson family.

Mr. and Mrs. James Black are back from a trip to Galveston, where they visited relatives, fished, and attended the Baylor game last weekend.

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 19): Arrangements and agreements with others look very inviting and promising. They can be, if the claims aren't exaggerated.

TAURUS (Apr 20-May 20): Beneficial changes are in operation that will affect your work or career. Some are slightly inflated.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Social contacts take on new dimensions, deeper meanings. They seem to be to your benefit, except where sex is involved.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Important changes that affect you and yours are starting to jell. Hasty judgments could lessen some of your luck.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22): You wield powerful influence over others and can direct them to suit your purpose, but you're likely to waste the opportunity.

VIRGO (Aug 23-Sept 22): You have something others want, and are willing to make it well-worth your while. It's not something speculative.

You've earned the confidence of those who can render assistance in career, financial areas and help make changes you couldn't make yourself.

LIBRA (Sept 23-Oct 23): An important decision you can make favorably today changes your course of action. It shouldn't be a domestic judgment.

SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov 22): Confidential arrangements can be made today that have material benefits. Watch what you put in writing. It may be more than you intended.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23-Dec 21): Old hopes can be transformed to take on new life and meaning. Don't overspend to bring them to fruition.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan 19): There's a surprising shift in circumstances that gets you nearer your goals. Keen judgment's required to appreciate full advantages.

AQUARIUS (Jan 20-Feb 19): A fortuitous change could lull you into overconfidence. Your luck is good if you don't waste your breaks.

PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20): A new change offers some very interesting prospects. Someone who's been helping you may want a fairly large slice.

On Monday the children had the delightful experience of making a jack-o'-lantern from a huge pumpkin grown by a kindergarten grandfather. On the day of the party they prepared the refreshments, played Halloween games, and "Trick-or-Treat."

Adding to the festivities of the week were celebrations of three kindergarten birthdays. On Oct. 24, Mrs. A. M. Massey sent decorated cup cakes to mark the sixth birthday of her son, Duke; on Oct. 26, Mrs. Jim Branch brought cup cakes decorated with Halloween favors to honor her son, Jim, on his sixth birthday and on Oct. 27, Mrs. Larry Vaughn treated the group with homemade cupcakes for the fifth birthday of her son, Jeffrey.

DEAR RAP:
My girlfriend and I just broke up after being together almost a year. I still love her (and from what she tells our friends, she feels the same) but she apparently won't stop smoking and drinking. She's 16 and I'm a few years older so I know the dangers.

What started the big fight was that she lied to me. She said she'd quit and I found out different. I said I never wanted to see her again, this after I'd heard she had a drink and a cigarette at a party.

If she really loves me she'll give up the bad things for me. But it's been two weeks and she hasn't called. I get more miserable every day. Am I asking too much? —CONFUSED

DEAR CON:

You're asking too much when you expect a girl to call first after you've said you wouldn't see her again!

It isn't WANTING too much when you hope she'll knock off cigarettes and booze, but maybe you bossed too much in the way you asked.

Get on the horn, and this time don't do the big father number. —SUE

DEAR CONFUSED:
And remember, the literary line, "Love means not ever having to say you're sorry" did great things for Erich Segal, but taken literally, it could break up a lot of romances.

Remember, too, that persuasion ("Because I care about you") goes farther than blame in eliminating what might become dangerous habits. —HELEN

Ideal for novices—a knit poncho

By JUDY LOVE

A friend of mine is a wonderful knitter. She has turned out more knitted garments in her half a century than most of us would think possible in several lifetimes. Obviously she enjoys every row she knits—or purrs. I asked her recently what advice she'd like to pass on to my readers.

That started it. She offered this for the more novice knitters: When you begin to knit, always use a pencil and paper, right along with your knitting. Note the number of each row you've completed—write it down. Then when you pick up your work again, you'll never just guess where you were.

Another suggestion for new knitters is to use a sheet of paper to help follow the directions. As you read down each line, cover the instructions line by line, and once again, you'll never lose your place.

For all knitters, proved and hard-at-it, my friend said that test swatches are absolutely vital. You know how often I tell you that. She reports that long-experienced knitters make a test swatch automatically.

Always make your test swatch big enough to really see and feel the pattern. When you have a good-sized swatch—really good-sized—block it. Then check your gauge. Every set of instructions gives a specific gauge.

Before you begin any garment, your gauge must match that given in the directions: if your test swatch is different, use larger or smaller needles to get the right gauge.

For knitters of all gauges and skills, here's a zipper-front poncho that's a winner.

This hooded poncho is worked on a 29-inch circular needle, along with a pair of No. 6 needles for detailing. The pattern is easy (make that test swatch first!) and it's knit in natural Reynolds Lopi yarn. One size fits all.

Directions for this warm, go-everywhere poncho are available from your local paper. Send 50 cents to Stitchin' Time, c/o your local paper, Radio City Station Box 503, New York, N.Y. 10019. Ask for leaflet S355. Be sure to include your name, address and zip code.

Knit Knacks

Dear Judy: My mother was a great knitter and taught me early on to make a test swatch before starting the simplest sweater. Through the years I've collected boxes of swatches, and thought you'd like to hear what I do with them. First of all, I often can re-use a swatch as a guide for rechecking.

Secondly, when I have a big collection, block lots of swatches to the same size I sew or sometimes crochet them together. I have

Hempstead County

November 2, 1972

Dear Hempstead County Voters:

During the past four months since I announced my candidacy for the office of State Representative, District 20, for Hempstead County, I have attempted to see each one of you to ask for your support. In some instances I have missed you, and I want to take this opportunity to tell you why I will be a good representative for all the people in Hempstead County.

There is no substitute for experience, and through the years I have gained invaluable knowledge of every day problems and of solutions to these problems.

1. Background: I grew up in a family that has great respect for our country, its people and its institutions. I gained much experience from my father, who was a lawyer and my mother, who served two terms as mayor; but they were parents who always put their family first.

2. Education: I am a college graduate with experience as a secondary and elementary teacher; but I'm also a parent and know what is involved in educating a child: namely, books, clothes, tuition, etc. My two daughters have graduated from college and my twin sons are sophomores at Hendrix College. I am interested in education both professionally and as a parent.

3. Agriculture: Living on a farm for 11 years as a farmer's wife gave me an insight to this vocation that I could not have had otherwise. Therefore, I will be able to relate to the needs of the farmers of our area.

4. Business: Since the loss of my husband in 1969, I have had to manage our business affairs and I was able to do this through the knowledge I gained from our association.

5. Government: As I told you in my announcement, I believe that government should be designed to serve the people, not to burden them; therefore, I do not support a raise in taxes, instead believing our government should operate within its income.

6. Senior Citizens: I know the problems of our elderly, having a father who was bedridden for 3½ years before his death and a mother who had to be in a rest home before her death; and by knowing many other relatives and friends who have had these similar problems. I have devoted many volunteer hours to our senior citizens who are so often forgotten.

7. Veterans: I was married to a soldier and veteran of World War II for 24-plus years and my two brothers are veterans of the same war. I have friends who are veterans of World War II and the Korean War and whose children have participated in the Vietnam War, so the needs of veterans, their families and survivors are very real to me.

8. Women: As a widow, I am particularly sensitive to the needs of the many women who are left alone to cope with their lives. I am interested in the working woman, and feel she should be adequately rewarded for the work she does.

9. Youth: Particularly dear to me are our youth, the future of our county, state, and country. Through the years I have worked many volunteer hours with preschool children, retarded children, slow learners, Cub Scouts, Brownie Scouts, Girl Scouts, and have taught young people in Sunday School. I feel that we must be constructive and concentrate on finding answers for our youth, rather than emphasizing juvenile delinquency and downgrading our youth.

I earnestly solicit your vote and support on November 7th, and when elected, I promise to fulfill all my obligations in working as your fulltime state representative.

Sincerely,

Jerri Pruden

WHA gets fresh start

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The World Hockey Association, with its 12 brand new teams, offers one commodity big league hockey has sought for a long time. Instant parity.

In a league where every team is starting out fresh, there is little chance for one club to dominate another. The best example came Wednesday night when the WHA's two last-place clubs beat the two division leaders.

The Minnesota Fighting Saints, last in the West, whipped division-leading Winnipeg 3-0, and Philadelphia, on the bottom of the East, knocked off frontrunning Cleveland 7-5. In the only other WHA game played Wednesday, New England tripped Chicago 4-2.

Philadelphia, with only one victory in its first nine games, got four goals from Danny Lawson and some spectacular goaltending from Marcel Paille to beat Cleveland.

Paille kicked out 42 shots and Lawson scored three of the Blazers' first four goals. Derek Sanderson also connected for Philadelphia, beating his old Boston Bruin teammate, goalie Gerry Cheevers, on a break-away.

U.S. Olympic hero Mike Curran stopped 41 Winnipeg shots as Minnesota shut out the Jets. Curran kept the Saints in the scoreless game until Craig Falkman's goal, with five minutes left in the second period, put Minnesota in front. George Konik and Mike Antonovich had the other Minnesota goals.

Hometown hero Kevin Ahearn scored two goals for New England as the Whalers whipped Chicago.

Ahearn, a former Boston College star, tied the score at 2-2 late in the second period and then assisted on Tom Earl's third-period goal for New England. Then he wrapped up the victory with a back-hander for his second goal of the game and third this season.

NHL

The Montreal Canadiens were on the road but made themselves at home in Pittsburgh. The Buffalo Sabres, however, found a rude greeting for them in Toronto.

The Canadiens remained the lone unbeaten team in the National Hockey League Wednesday night, whipping the Pittsburgh Penguins 7-1. It was the worst beating the Penguins have ever had at home. Toronto stopped the surprising Buffalo team 7-1 to end the Sabres' 10-game unbeaten string.

Jacques Lemaire and Marc Tardif each scored twice for Montreal while Serge Savard, Pete Mahovlich and Yvan Cournoyer had one goal each for the Canadiens. The Penguins' single goal came from Lowell McDonald on a second-period power play.

Ken Dryden stopped 31 shots in the Montreal goal.

Toronto jumped from a 1-1 tie to a 4-1 lead in less than five minutes of the second period against Buffalo. George Ferguson, Dave Keon and Pierre Jarvis scored the goals for the Canadiens. Errol Thompson, Keon and Gary Monahan added goals in the final period.

Thompson got the first Maple Leaf goal in the first period before the Sabres' Gil Perreault tied it with his team's only goal.

League winner Wednesday.

Carlton's 27 victories topped the majors and tied the National League record for a left-hander set by Hall of Famer Sandy Koufax. Koufax in 1963, 1965 and 1966, and Bob Gibson and Denny McLain, both in 1968, were the only previous unanimous Cy Young winners.

Whenever Carlton pitched, he filled Philadelphia's Veterans Stadium, providing the lone bright spot in an otherwise bleak season for the Phillies. And, ironically, they almost didn't have him.

It was a contract squabble between Carlton and St. Louis owner Gusie Busch that caused the Cardinals to trade the lefty to Philadelphia for pitcher Rick Wise during spring training.

Carlton responded with his greatest season, pacing the league in starts (41); complete games (30); victories (27); innings pitched (346); strikeouts (310) and earned run average (1.98).

And he capped it all off with today's award.

Carlton wins Cy Young award

NEW YORK (AP) — To the surprise of absolutely no one, Philadelphia's Steve Carlton has won the Cy Young Award as the best pitcher in the National League.

Carlton was the unanimous choice of the 24-man committee of baseball writers—two from each NL city—for the honor after turning in a remarkable 27-10 record for the last-place Phillies.

The lean left-hander, who accounted for 46 per cent of Philadelphia's 59 victories last season, is only the sixth unanimous selection in the 16-year history of the balloting and the first Phillie ever to win the award. He also is the first man to win the award while pitching for a last-place team.

Carlton polled 120 points for his ballot sweep—five points for each first place vote. Runnerup was Pittsburgh's Steve Blass, who had 35 points. Ferguson Jenkins of Chicago, last year's Cy Young winner, was third with 23 points.

Cleveland's Gaylord Perry was named the American

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — No. 63, the placekicker on Mary Immaculate High School's football team, missed one of the games this fall.

She—that's right, No. 63 is a girl—didn't play at homecoming. The shapely kicking specialist was crowned homecoming princess.

Theresa Dion, known around the locker room as Good 'Ole 63, is not only the football team's placekicker, she is also president of her senior class, an honor student and a beauty queen.

That makes her the only girl on a high school varsity team in Florida, says Floyd Lay, director of the state's High School Activities Association.

Theresa, 5-foot-2 with eyes of blue, fills her helmet with masses of blonde curls. She also fills her regulation-size uniform with a trim 120 pounds and proper padding in the appropriate places.

"I'm not even the lightest member of the team," she says with a giggle, "but my hair is a little longer."

Mariners Coach Bill Zumbris says, "She's not only the best we've got, but she's just about as good as anybody's got."

The wisp of a girl who runs the 40-yard dash in 4.6 seconds didn't grow up a tomboy among her five sisters and a younger brother. She stumbled into her gridiron career by accident.

Zumbris says Theresa asks no favors and receives none—except she doesn't scrimmage and she dresses with the cheerleaders. "And the no scrimmage rule is mine, not hers," he adds.

But there are still four games this season and Theresa hopes to atone for last Saturday, when the Mariners lost 14-12 to Melbourne.

After warming the bench for five games, Theresa was sent in to try for the extra point. She missed—twice.

"I just hardly ever miss, but I did," she said ruefully at Tuesday's practice.

To prove it, she promptly booted seven footballs through the uprights.

Joe Ferguson:

Looking for a reversal

By RIC COOPER

Quarterback Joe Ferguson is looking for a reversal this season.

Last year, the Hogs suffered their first SWC loss of the year against the Texas Aggies. And the following week, Arkansas tied Rice and was knocked out of the league championship.

This year, Joe is hoping it will be the Razorbacks turn to finish strong in the stretch.

"We know we have to win the next four games to go to a bowl," Ferguson said. "There are a lot of seniors who want to go to a bowl real bad since this will be their last chance."

Ferguson said the Hogs know A&M will be wanting to repeat their 1971 victory. And he thinks the Aggies could provide just as many problems this year as last.

"Everyone is talking about how well they played last year," Ferguson said. "I think they have better ability than last year. Their three linebackers are good, and that freshman linebacker of theirs plays like he's been around for a while."

In one of the most physically bruising games of last year, Ferguson was forced into the air and set three Arkansas passing records. Ferguson connected on 31 of 51 passes for 345 yards.

Last week in the Hogs' 42-16 win against North Texas State, Ferguson's throwing was more accurate than ever. Joe completed 800 of his aeriels, finding his mark on 12 of 15 passes.

RAZORBACK PRACTICE

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks spent half of their practice Wednesday inside and the other half outside in the rain as they prepared for Saturday's game with Texas A&M.

The Razorbacks have practiced in the rain for three consecutive days.

"We needed to go outside to work on our pass defense, our pass offense and our kicking game," Coach Frank Broyles said.

"I reiterate my statements made to the commissioner during the World Series. All these payments to Rudi, Hegan and Tenace were predicated on the outstanding performances they had during the year."

Mets make 4-player swap

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets, expected to be extra active in baseball's winter trade market, have made their first move, a four-player swap with the Atlanta Braves.

The Mets shipped right-handed pitchers Gary Gentry and Danny Frisella to the Braves in exchange for second baseman Felix Millan and left-hander George Stone.

Playoffs may have solid look

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Class AAA playoffs may have a solid look after Friday night.

Hot Springs, the leader in AAA-West, meets Springdale, and Jonesboro, the front-runner in AAA-East, plays Forrest City.

Hot Springs, 3-0 in the conference, is the top-ranked team in the state.

Springdale appeared to be the Trojans' strongest challenger until losing to Fayetteville three weeks ago and then dropping a 7-0 decision to Fort Smith Southside. Hot Springs victory would assure the Trojans of the championship. Should Hot Springs lose, the Trojans would have to face Southside in a showdown next week.

Hot Springs quarterback Tom Koonce completed his 100th pass of the season last week while passing for 215 yards and two touchdowns as the Trojans destroyed Fayetteville 34-7.

Koonce and his pass-catching friends appear to be too much for Springdale.

HOT SPRINGS 17, SPRINGDALE 7.

Third-ranked Jonesboro is 4-0 in the conference and eighth-ranked Forrest City is 3-0-1.

As usual, Jonesboro's defense has been outstanding. While racking up seven straight victories, including a one-point decision over second-ranked North Little Rock Ole Main, Jonesboro has permitted only 38 points.

Forrest City knocked off Jonesboro 13-0 with Robert Lee Stewart, but the Mustangs' Coach Bill Shimek says, "We don't have that one horse this time."

Forrest City figures to have as much trouble scoring against Jonesboro as everybody else.

JONESBORO 14, FORREST CITY 7.

Last week's percentage was a season high .844. Here are other predictions involving AAAA, AAA and AA high school teams around the state:

Crossett 20, Dollarway 14; Greenbrier 13, Lake Hamilton 7; Watson Chapel 19, Dumas 13; Bryant 13, White Hall 6; Lakeside 20, Cabot 17; Lonoke 7, Searcy 6; Sheridan 20, LR Robinson 13; Arkadelphia 21, Fairview 12; Magnolia 23, Ashdown 14; Malvern 20, Camden 8; Hope 19, Nashville 12.

Nixon is on television tonight

By R. GREGORY NOKES

Associated Press Writer

President Nixon will give his views on the future of America in a nationwide television address this evening, a day after Sen. George McGovern said he thinks Americans want the country "to follow higher moral standards."

The President announced plans for a closing blitz in his campaign for re-election. There will be nationwide television speeches this evening and Monday, and campaign trips on Friday and Saturday to six states—Oklahoma, North Carolina, Rhode Island, New Mexico, California and Illinois.

The President's speech is scheduled to be televised live from the White House at 7:30 p.m., EST. Besides discussing the country's future, he is also expected to comment on the status of the Vietnam peace negotiations.

McGovern said at a rally in New York City's garment-workers district that "the American people in their own way are saying something that may sound old-fashioned ... they want this country to follow higher moral standards."

"What I have heard,"

McGovern said, despite a voice that was hoarse from speaking too much, "is a cry on the part of the American people, that we lift the vision of this country, that we become a country more in line with the great principles and great ideals with which we began some 200 years ago."

McGovern was to appear at a telethon on Chicago television today and then travel to Ohio and Michigan.

In other campaign developments:

—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew complained of "fascist tactics" and "storm-trooper mentalities" on the part of a few hecklers at a speech he delivered in San Diego, Calif.

—Democratic vice presidential candidate Sargent Shriver continued to criticize terms of a proposed Vietnam peace settlement as "shaky."

—The Nixon campaign agreed Wednesday to disclose the names of major financial contributors who gave to the campaign before March 8, as part of an agreement in a suit seeking disclosure of all contributors prior to April 7 when a new campaign law went into effect. The suit was brought by the citizen's lobby, Common Cause.

—One of the defendants in the burglary of Democratic party offices in Washington, Bernard L. Barber, Wednesday received a suspended 60-day jail sentence after being convicted in Miami, Fla., of unlawfully notarizing a $20,000 Republican campaign check.

—Gov. Ronald Reagan of California asked the radio and television networks not to make predictions of national victory in Tuesday's elections until after the polls have closed on the West Coast. He said early predictions could hurt the voter turnout in California and elsewhere.

—Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said Republican campaign tactics are "the dirtiest kind of politics" in his experience, and he will seek a congressional investigation.

—Evangelist Billy Graham said he already has cast his vote for President Nixon by absentee ballot. He described Nixon as "a man with a deep religious commitment."

—A straw poll by the New York Daily News showed President Nixon leading McGovern in New York state by 64 to 36 per cent.

—McGovern decided against using a so-called television debate with Nixon in which McGovern would have responded to filmed statements by the President. He made the decision Wednesday after viewing a private screening of the program which had been prepared by his staff.

Agnew was confronted by a few hecklers in San Diego who blew whistles and shouted anti-war slogans. The vice president, who recently used his own whistle against demonstrators, said:

"Sooner or later the American people are going to put their foot down hard on this kind of anti-intellectual exercise." He added: "Since you apparently enjoy fascist tactics, why not go all the way and wear brown shirts so we can know who you are and what you are?"

know why I do these nice things but I am going to give one of you a trump trick as a coming home present."

Then he led the three of trumps.

West said, "I guess you also give ice to Eskimos." Then, since he had nothing better to do, he led a diamond. George ruffed in dummy; led a spade; ruffed with his queen of trumps and led his last trump to dummy's 10. Dummy's spades were now good and the ace of clubs scored the last trick.

George was just as generous as he used to be. He had to give away that trump trick to make his contract.

Bad news hits A's 'Charlie O' twice

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Charles O. Finley was fined $2,500 Wednesday and then had more bad news Wednesday night when his Memphis Tams lost a game in the American Basketball Association.

Finley, hit with the fine for giving increased compensation to some of his Oakland players during baseball's recent World Series, made it an imperfect day after his ABA club was spanked 107-101 by the San Diego Conquistadors. Ollie Taylor scored 22 points to lead San Diego and hand the Tams their sixth straight defeat.

In Wednesday's other ABA games, the Indiana Pacers smashed the Virginia Squires 120-100 and the Utah Stars trounced the Denver Rockets 123-113.

The Conquistadors rallied from a 79-60 deficit midway through the third period as they beat the Tams for the third straight time.

George Thompson of Memphis led all scorers with 37 points.

George McGinnis scored 30 points and hauled down a ca-rear-high 27 rebounds to power Indiana's victory. Julius Erving had a game-high 30 points for Virginia, although the Squires were never in the game once the Pacers pulled away in the second quarter.

Bill Keller came off the bench to give the Indiana offense a big lift, scoring 13 of his 24 points.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jack Kelly Jr., president of the Amateur Athletic Union, has called for a congressional investigation into the activities and function of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Kelly, a former Olympic carman, said Wednesday he will ask that a special commission be formed to determine the legitimate scope of the NCAA's activities, including methods of enforcement employed by the NCAA's executive offices under Executive Director Walter Byers.

With peace in sight, pilots not taking any chances on runs

ABOARD CARRIER AMERICA off Vietnam (AP) — Because of all the talk about the possibility of a cease-fire in the Vietnam war, many pilots aboard the aircraft carrier America say they're not taking any chances.

They go after their assigned targets, but in a crunch situation caution is the key.

One squadron commander said the North Vietnamese are shooting "with everything they've got."

"It's the big push," said Cmdr. Don Summer of Houston, Tex. "They feel they're going to have a settlement soon. They're not worried about ammunition, and they're shooting everything they've got — at least that's the way it seems to me."

Last week, President Nixon ordered bombing halted above the 20th parallel, putting the Hanoi-Haiphong area and the railroads to China off limits.

"When we moved down below the 20th, they knew — so they moved their defenses down," said Summer. "It's been my observation that they're accelerating, whether it's defenses or moving supplies. The end's in sight so they're going for broke."

The America, operating off North Vietnam near the demilitarized zone, has turned into a rumor mill since Henry A. Kissinger's announcement last week that "peace is at hand."

"The rumors aboard this ship — I can't believe it," said Lt. Col. J.K. Cochran of Beaufort, N.C., who commands the only Marine attack squadron in the 7th Fleet. "You name a day between now and next April that there'll be a cease-fire, and I've heard it."

"I wish instead of doing it a little at a time, either they'd do it or not do it," said Maj. Lee "Bear" Lancaster of Lake Wales, Fla. "If they don't, it'll be a lot harder going up North later on."

"All we're interested in is getting the job done — ending the war. The rumors have got to affect people a little bit . . . You don't want to be the last one shot down."

The pilots said safety is always a paramount concern, but as Lt. (j.g.) Marv Baldwin of Springfield, Colo., put it, "Now that there's a chance the war's going to be over, I'm extra cautious. I don't take any chances."

One key to survival for these men is motivation.

"It's easy for us to think too much about a cease-fire and let down," explained Lt. Cmdr. Bo Smith of Jacksonville, Fla. "As soon as you start to relax — that's when you get shot down."

— Smog from Los Angeles, 60 miles away, threatens century-old ponderosa and Jeffrey pines in the San Bernardino Mountains, says National Geographic.

Pvt. Smith denies 'fragging' charge

FT. ORD, Calif. (AP) — Pvt. Billy Dean Smith has denied any guilt in the 1971 "fragging" deaths of two Army lieutenants, claiming he was framed by military police.

Smith testified at his court-martial Wednesday that he was smoking marijuana at the time of the hand grenade blast. A grenade pin found in his pocket when he was arrested was "planted" by military police, he told the court.

The prosecution has attempted to link the pine with a safety lever found at the scene of the blast in Vietnam which killed Lts. Thomas A. Dellwo of Choteau, Mont., and Richard E. Harlan of Dallas, Tex.

Smith is accused of their deaths and of the attempted murders of his commanding officer, Capt. Randall L. Rigby, and 1st Sgt. Billie E. Willis.

Smith said he had had several encounters with Rigby over some minor infractions, including possession of marijuana and failing to make a troop movement.

"I never had a big falling out with Willis," Smith said in response to questioning by defense lawyer Luke McKissack. "He was liked by some men some of the time, and disliked by them some of the time," Smith added.

Smith, from the Watts area in Los Angeles, told the court he was in a bunker at Bien Hoa Army Base with two other soldiers smoking pot at the time of the explosion.

When they left the bunker and were told there was going to be a shakedown inspection, Smith got rid of his marijuana and joined formation, he testified.

Smith, 24, said he threw up his hands in surprise when a "man in civilian clothes stepped up" and placed a hand on his shoulder. The man was not further identified.

The defendant said he started yelling while he was being searched because "I was made and wanted witnesses to see what was happening. I didn't know what they were going to do with me."

Smith said he did not make statements admitting guilt at the time of his arrest. He recalled saying, "You're not going to pin this on me."

Questioned by McKissack, Smith repeatedly denied involvement in the fragging incident during nearly four hours of testimony.

What if every taxi had a two-man crew, and each man had a meter?

Ridiculous, right?

Wrong. It happens every day on Arkansas' railroads. Unnecessary crewmen are paid a full day's pay for jobs already being done—sometimes for as little as 45 minutes of work.

Act 1 will put into Arkansas law job and earnings protection for train crewmen. The United Transportation Union representing train crew members and railroad management have already signed contracts that will further assure this protection and provide even more benefits. Passage of Act 1 will make these agreements effective.

But there is another very important thing Act 1 will do—it will avoid the necessity of imposing an extra freight charge on every railroad car loaded or unloaded in the State of Arkansas.

This year, vote for job and earnings protection for train crewmen. And vote against a special freight charge that will most certainly find its way to you.

Vote FOR Act 1. You'll not only be helping railroad crewmen, you'll be helping yourself.

When you vote FOR Act 1, you won't cost anyone his job.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An industrial area of Philadelphia is known as Nicetown, but not to truck driver Joseph Dwyer.

Dwyer, 42, told police hijackers stopped his 36-foot tractor trailer in Nicetown Wednesday noon, drove him around for half an hour and then made off with $50,000 worth of cigarettes.

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co.'s customer service division has introduced a computerized complaint-handling system which the automaker said monitors dealer performance.

Ford said all customer complaints sent to the Dearborn, Mich., headquarters or 34 district service offices are recorded in a central computer.

The company said the computerized complaint-handling system issues weekly status reports to each district manager listing all unresolved customer complaints by dealership.

The automaker said its customer service division has been in operation for one year.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — At the request of a local peace action group, the Dayton City Commission has approved a resolution asking President Nixon to sign immediately the nine-point cease-fire agreement with the North Vietnamese.

Jay Westbrook, a spokesman for the Emergency Action Coalition, read the resolution to the commission Wednesday night. The panel approved it 3-1.

Democratic Mayor James McGee, who did not vote on the resolution, told the peace group, "What you are asking us to do is propagandize. We have already gone on record as opposing the war. We are opposed to this war as you are."

POSEN, Mich. (AP) — Police are searching for the Halloween night assailant who sprayed burning ether into the face of a 39-year-old Posen man as he left a local tavern.

Florian Stepaniak was listed in "satisfactory" condition Wednesday with facial burns.

U.S. is rushing financial aid to Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The United States is rushing millions of dollars worth of military supplies to South Vietnam in a crash program to beat the signing of a cease-fire agreement.

For the first time the South Vietnamese are getting four-engine C130 transport planes.

Both the U.S. Command and the 7th Air Force refused to discuss the military aid program. But informed sources said it goes well beyond the equipment originally planned for in the Vietnamization schedule.

The draft peace agreement, which calls for withdrawal of all American troops from Vietnam within 60 days of signing, stipulates that the United States can replace existing military equipment only on a one-to-one basis with weapons of the same characteristics or of similar characteristics and properties, under international supervision.

Anticipating the agreement will be signed soon, the Pentagon is sending scores of transports into Saigon from bases in the United States carrying military equipment including armored personnel carriers and $1.3 million Chinook helicopters.

Five of the C130s, the work horse of the Vietnam war, arrived at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Air Base Thursday. They were the first to be turned over to the South Vietnamese air force.

More C130s are scheduled to arrive soon for Saigon's air force, which has had only twin-engine C123 transports. They carry 24,000 pounds of cargo or 60 fully equipped troops; the C130s can handle more than 36,000 pounds or 92 fully equipped troops.

The C130 is also faster than the C123 and has twice the range of the smaller plane.

As far as can be learned, South Vietnamese pilots have not yet been trained to fly the C130s nor have mechanics been trained to service them.

U.S. C5A cargo planes from the United States are also seen more frequently at Tan Son Nhut, unloading such big items as armored personnel carriers and disassembled Chinook helicopters.

Reports also said that A37 attack bombers are being flown here and turned over to the South Vietnamese air force.

While U.S. transport planes are shuttling in equipment, there are no cargo ships tied up at the multi-million dollar Newport shipping complex built by the Americans outside Saigon.

This is another indication that the United States is rushing to get war materials into Saigon before a cease-fire. Air transport takes one day, while sea shipments take 20 days.

Drug program is failure

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federally financed private study describes the government's drug-abuse-prevention program as burdened with failure and scare tactics, and suggests official acceptance of limited narcotics use.

The three-volume study was compiled over a year's period by Macro Systems Inc., and cost $300,000. It has been kept under wraps since June by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The report said the "crisis atmosphere" surrounding prevention programs has resulted in "diffused objectives and goals, overlapping and duplication of effort, lack of consistent and long-range planning, and difficulty in assessing program effectiveness."

reachable goal, drug use on the part of youth could be accepted—especially marijuana use."

The government, the report said, is "more likely to yield long-range positive results" by dropping its "failure-ridden quest for a youthful society free from drug use—a proposed idyllic island awash in a sea of alcohol, nicotine and legally prescribed drug-taking."

"A major finding supporting the adoption of this option relates to the fact that illegal drug use is endemic among the youth population and that the use of alcohol, tobacco and mood-altering drugs on the part of adults is also widespread," the report said.

— Authorities say alcohol is the most abused drug in the United States.

Ezra Pound, poet, dies

VENICE (AP) — Poet Ezra Pound, one of the most influential and controversial literary figures of the 20th century, died in a Venice hospital Wednesday night, two days after his 87th birthday. He had been hospitalized on Tuesday with an intestinal ailment.

As author of "Hugh Selwyn Mauberley" the "Pisan Cantos," as editor of T. S. Eliot's "Waste Land" and mentor of many writers before and after World War I, Pound changed the course of poetry and the literary use of the English language. But his reputation in his native America was clouded by broadcasts during World War II for Mussolini's fascists that got him an indictment for treason and 12 years in a mental hospital in Washington, D.C.

Pound was born in Hailey, Idaho, of Quaker stock tracing back to Colonial days. Early in life he cast himself as a literary rebel, and three years out of college he was fired as an instructor at Wabash College for being too bohemian and too outspoken.

He left in disgust for London in 1908 and became the leader of a group of experimental poets calling themselves "imagists" or "vorticalists."

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Questions surgery for 89-year-old

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — My father has an aortic aneurysm and has had it for about eight years. However, now it is getting bigger and our family doctor suggests an operation with a graft. He is 89 years old and I don't know whether the family should encourage the operation or not. I, being the son with power of attorney to handle all legal matters, seem to be left with the decision. Would you please comment on this for me. He is in pretty good health other than hypertension and also he is taking digitalis tablets four times a week.

Dear Reader — An aneurysm of the aorta is caused by a weakness in the wall of the aorta which allows it to balloon out like a weak spot does on an inner tube only usually in these cases the area involved is much larger than that you might see on the inner tube. The real danger of course is that the dilated part of the weakened wall or the aneurysm may blow out or rupture. When it starts getting larger, if it is going to be operated on, that is the time it should be done.

Many of these that involve replacing a section of the aorta in the abdomen can be done with a limited amount of risk.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1331, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. For a copy of Dr. Lamb's booklet on cholesterol, send 50 cents to the same address and ask for "Cholesterol" booklet.

Nessie's back! Maybe.

BOSTON (AP) — Nessie, the much photographed and still unexplained Loch Ness Monster, has had her picture taken again—and with the usual inconclusive results.

Robert H. Rines, president of the Academy of Applied Science, disclosed Wednesday a series of color and black and white pictures which he says show a large marine creature inhabit Scotland's Loch Ness.

Rines says an Academy expedition took the photos late in the summer and the pictures are substantiated by sonar and other scientific data.

The Academy, a group of scientists and laymen dedicated to promoting science and technology, presented its findings at the Annual Northeast Electronics Research and Engineering meeting.

Rines displayed a series of photos which show a green-brown triangular object, identified as a fin, moving through murky water. He said international authorities who have seen the pictures verify their authenticity, even though no one will hazard a guess about the identity of the creature.

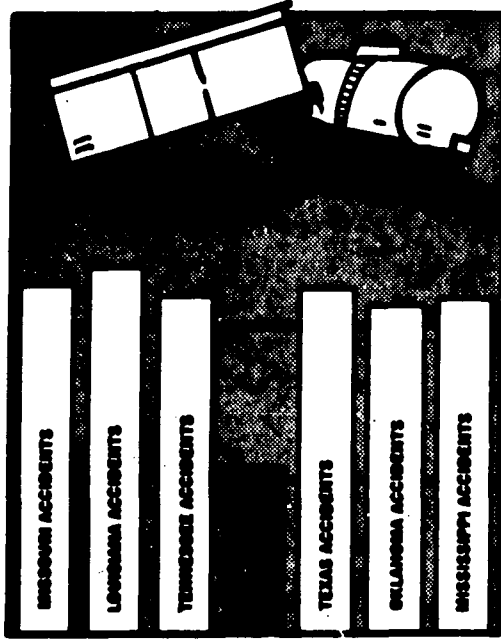

"If we are right, and the experts say we are," Rines said, "then there are extremely long animals living in Loch Ness."

The sound waves of the sonar picked up two creatures moving down an underwater ravine toward the camera, Rines said, and showed them to be 20 to 30 feet long. The camera, set 50 feet under water and 150 feet from the sonar equipment, was set to take strobe-light pictures at 15 second intervals and Rines said the fin moved in and out of view in five frames.

Rines said the pictures are of poor quality because of silty water, but photo experts estimate the size of the appendage at 8 to 10 feet long and 4 to 6 feet across.

Don't Spoil Arkansas' Railroad SAFETY RECORD

Arkansas is first in rail safety. Fewer accidents occur in Arkansas than in any surrounding state. Only Arkansas has a full crew safety law.

People in the News

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedian Flip Wilson is named as the father of Mabel Robinson's son in a suit in which she seeks child support and medical expenses.
Miss Robinson's attorney filed the suit in Superior Court here Wednesday. It said the child, Joseph, was born in New York City last May 26.
A hearing is scheduled for Monday.

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip says the modern industrial society is producing unhealthy communities in which mugging, drug-taking and child-bashing are rampant.
"Somehow or other we must find the causes and the cures for these diseases," the prince said Wednesday in an address to the Royal College of Medical Practitioners after being installed as president.
Prince Philip, the husband of Queen Elizabeth II, said the industrial society is creating a new type of community, "completely different from anything in previous human experience."

Boyleing it down

By RENA PEDERSON
Associated Press Writer
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Sometimes a reporter has to talk to the people who don't read newspapers to find out what the world is all about.
Frances, for instance, is a waitress in a Chinese restaurant that has prided itself on its egg foo yung sandwiches and chop suey to go for some 20 years.
But it is Frances who holds the "China Clipper" together with her strength and good cheer, padding around on crepe sole shoes, opening a beer as she goes from booth to booth.
"I don't know how you write for newspapers, I can't stand to read 'em myself," says Frances. (Frances has no last name or background because she never talks about it — "Just call me Frances, that's all I am.")
"You're going to make yourself nervous reading about politics and hijacks and wars. I don't mess with world affairs myself. That's here today and gone tomorrow!" Frances always speaks with a sureness and volume that draws nods from everyone at the counter.
Frances is a stocky woman in her 40s, who wears different costume jewelry to match her nylon uniform and apron. Her cat-eye glasses, which she puts on to read Gothic novels in slow hours, also match her jewelry.
She carries on a constant battle with Joe, the restaurant owner, over her Hawaiian music. She brings her own tape cassette and plays Hawaiian recordings. Joe turns it off. Frances turns it back on when Joe is in the kitchen.
"Been to Hawaii? Me? Oh honey, I'd like to, but there ain't that much money these days. I just like to listen to it. It kinda makes the place seem nicer."
To Frances, the only thing that counts is "getting into the kingdom." "This stuff around her don't matter," she says. The way she looks at it, some 14,000 will get in the kingdom, runners-up will be "the great multitude" ruling on earth and the remnant will be just stuck on earth doing nothing in particular.
Frances doesn't come out and say it, but reporters and politicians are not particularly favored for the kingdom crowd.
And politics?
"You know who I'm going to vote for?" says Frances. "Nobody! All the leaders in the world aren't going to make any difference in the long run."
Frances figures the key to life is to be good to your family, your friends and your customers. That and a little gum syn all foo yung, woo dip har egg roll and beer will see you through.
Frances dispenses her advice with the sweet and sour sauce: "Don't you worry about anything. News? That stuff will just make you nervous."
She's probably right. But how do you explain that, or Frances, or the joy of an egg foo yung sandwich to your boss?
